

Deep Sustainability

It's About, In, For!

As with the definition of environmental education, coined in Tbilisi, Georgia in the late 1970s, the SSA is About the environment, In the environment, For the environment ...

A welter of modern "environmentally friendly" things are largely missing out on the About and the In bits. Being connected to the Earth these days has become a checklist of "green duties", an abhorrence of plastic bags and a permanent cloud of guilt hovering above!

The SSA highly prioritises About , specifically in terms of us knowing about biological diversity and how the effect of every footstep and decision, every day, impacts on biodiversity. And the SSA promote In .... getting in touch with nature, but is still working on that one eh?
